Ricoh Office Solutions Earn Top Marks From Educators

Equipping America's schools with the proper technology is critical to our children becoming productive members of society. Yet delivering on this promise presents unique challenges to educators. Class sizes are expanding even as budgets shrink. Building new schools is a costly, long-term process while modernizing existing ones can be equally difficult. Global media and information networks bring new data into the classroom every day, quickly updating materials. The use of both Windows® and Macintosh® computers in school environments complicates matters further. Coordinating service and supplies of Ricoh solutions:

- Low total cost of ownership with aggressive hardware pricing plus rock-bottom per-page costs to make full-color and monochrome printing affordable for all.
- Several Ricoh printers provide access to full finishing, including hole punching and saddle stitch stapling, perfect for classroom handouts, article reprints, exam booklets, school play scripts, team playbooks, and more.

- Genuine Adobe® PostScript® 3™ Standard printing on all color laser printers for Macintosh and mixed network support in the classroom and computer lab.
- Optional 802.11b Wireless LAN functionality overcomes hard wiring issues in schools with concrete block construction or those using portable classrooms.
- User authentication, security, and cost management tools restrict color printing to minimize abuse, track system use, and keep confidential student profile data secure.
- Maximize printer technology ROI by placing productive full-color scanning and document distribution at the point of need to capture student enrollment, birth certificate, medical history, and proof of residency documents.
- PictBridge™ direct digital camera connectivity makes it easy to bring images from field trips, student activities, and laboratory experiments into learning.
